

You've chosen to have your cataracts removed at one of the finest surgical centers in the country. Here, skilled surgeons use a variety of advanced technologies that can enhance the quality of your vision after your cataract procedure, and even reduce the chances of you needing eyeglasses.

Optimizing Your Vision During Your Cataract Procedure

One innovative option offered by this practice is OptiPlus™, a proven state of the art analysis that provides your surgeon with an unprecedented new level of valuable information about your eye. And it's on-demand, during the procedure, which is exactly when it is needed the most. When OptiPlus is included as part of your procedure, you can have the confidence of knowing that your surgeon has the information needed to optimize your visual outcomes.

OptiPlus

- OptiPlus™ allows your surgeon to assess the quality of your vision during your cataract procedure
- OptiPlus will guide your surgeon and provide you with the opportunity for optimal outcomes
- Whether you've had LASIK or have astigmatism or any other visual error, OptiPlus can help you potentially eliminate your need for eyeglasses after your procedure

Introducing

OptiPlus

The revolutionary new option used during your cataract procedure to optimize your postoperative visual outcomes.

What is OptiPlus

OptiPlus™ is a revolutionary new option that provides an on-demand analysis of your eye, not possible with today's conventional measurements and instruments. At any point in the cataract procedure, your surgeon can easily take a measurement, which is then analyzed and used to guide your surgeon's decision making to optimize the vision of your eye. Prior to OptiPlus, surgeons have been unable to assess the quality of vision during the procedure, and would have to wait until weeks after the procedure to determine the accuracy of the results.

The benefits of OptiPlus

There are many benefits to having OptiPlus included as part of your cataract procedure.

- OptiPlus analysis can be added to optimize any cataract procedure regardless of the lens that you and your surgeon select
- Your surgeon will receive an OptiPlus analysis that will guide the correction of your eye to help ensure optimal outcomes
- If you have astigmatism, OptiPlus may improve the accuracy of your correction to help reduce the chance that you will need eyeglasses after your procedure
